

The Michigan Department of Civil Rights (MDCR) is pleased to cosponsor the Second Annual Anti-Bullying Conference with the Anti-Bullying Task Force. It will be held on October 25, 2013, at the Hagerty Center, Great Lakes Campus, Northwestern Michigan College in Traverse City.

Two dynamic keynote speakers will be joining us: Anthony Ianni (former MSU basketball player and motivational speaker for the Autism Alliance of Michigan) and Kevin Epling (bullying prevention advocate and father of Matt Epling, for whom Matt's Safe School Law was named).

This conference offers both a youth and an adult track.

To register for this free, one-day conference, click on the link below:

<https://docs.google.com/forms/d/1TdgYVwT8eiKfrNcTqIWCT6yBPcxill4axHQtAXnXVi8/viewform>.

Online registration is for adult participants only.

Youth must be registered by their respective adult advisors/chaperones using the youth registration process sent in the confirmation email to registered participants.

Questions about this conference should be directed to: Melissa Claramunt, MDCR, claramuntm@michigan.gov (phone: 231/439-5247) or Lisa Thomas, Northwestern Michigan College, lthomas@nmc.edu (phone: 231/995-1043). Should you need meal and/or other accommodations to participate, please provide the requested information to Melissa Claramunt as above.

We look forward to seeing you in October and having a very positive and inspirational day!